Urgent Notice – Potential postal strike
May 13, 2011

Canada Post and the Canadian Union of Postal Workers (CUPW) are currently in labour negotiations. In their April national vote, CUPW received a strong strike mandate from its members. The earliest date for a potential work disruption is May 25, 2011.

RBC Dexia Investor Services is closely monitoring the situation and we are currently working to mitigate any impact a potential Canada Post strike might have on your service.

If a strike occurs, all cheques issued after May 24 will be held in our office until the work disruption has been resolved.

In anticipation of the strike if you wish to have subsequent payments deposited directly into a bank account, please click here to select the Application for Direct Deposit form. Please have the completed form along with a “void” cheque faxed to RBC Dexia at 416.955.2631.

If you receive your monthly pension payment through direct deposit, there will be no impact to your payment in the event of a strike. However, your Direct Deposit Advice will only be mailed once the Canada Post work disruption has been resolved.

RBC Dexia will provide you with additional information as it becomes available.
